

Remembering Dave Jahnsen

Dave wore many hats in his 48 years...
He was a son, a brother, an uncle, a cousin...
He was a friend, a mixer, a republican, a Christian...
He was also a musician, a marine, a lover, a pilot, and sometimes a complete pain in the butt!

Each of us shall remember Dave in different ways.
But the most important thing to Dave was being a Dad.
His kids, Miles, Devyn, and Cole meant the world to him.
After Dave and his wife Beth separated, Dave would trek up the mountain to Crestline several days a week to participate in the kids' classes. Then he would be here in Protools 1 for the night shift. The guy never slept. If Dave was here working on a Saturday you would get to meet his sweet boys... always well behaved. He was a patient and loving father allowing his boys to experience the world in their own individual ways.

Dave thought he was "just the night guy" and was overwhelmed by the love and care that he received from everyone. He told me that was the luckiest guy to have had that accident, otherwise he would have never have known how much he was loved.
Dave told several people that he had no regrets about his life. His only worry was that he would not be here to watch his children grow up.

So it is up to us to remember Dave and what was important to him:
His children.
